GivingBack "Kicks Butt" at Pebblebrook

Austell, GA-- GivingBack Foundation's Leadership SOAR State Officer Team went to Pebblebrook High School to talk about the effects of using tobacco. The State Officers stood in front of more than 30 athletes and discussed the harmful effect of first and second hand smoking. The group made signs displaying the effect and handed our informational brochures about smoking and fans that said, "I am a fan of Cobb County Schools being tobacco free." The State Officer held this project known as "Kick Butt" as one of their Community Service Projects for the Leadership SOAR Program. This project was the first out of three projects the kids will do to complete their community service. The kids will complete their project at the Global Youth Service Day celebration, Saturday, April 25.

Helping Hands: Packaging Up Hope

Douglasville, GA- - On April 16, GivingBack Staff, VISTA members, and Volunteer joined forces with the staff of Warehouse of Hope to package up more than 100 boxes of food for families surrounding the low income community. "It was an amazing experience; I stay in this community and did not know something with such an impact was here", stated Ebony Esquivel. The families in the area can come and shop at the warehouse once a week, after attending an orientation, to buy food, clothing, and toiletries. Warehouse of Hope started in January of 1995 with a mission of "to share the hope and love of Christ with our community and provide resources to people in need." They are located in Douglasville, GA at 100 Hunter Road. They can serve up to 2000 people in one day.
